☞ Notice.

DIFFICULTIES arising from the nature of the following work, the publisher has been compelled to remove to Philadelphia for the better execution of his plan. The editorial department has in consequence fallen into other hands. Mr. ALLEN's present engagement rendering it impossible to superintend it in another city. The friends and relations of the different signers to the Declaration of Independence are therefore requested to direct their favors to the publisher, No. 443, Market-street, Philadelphia.

PROPOSALS

By Joseph M. Sanderson,
For Publishing by Subscription,
A Biography of the Signers
OF THE
Declaration of Independence,
Accompanied with Plates.

To which will be annexed a History of the Proceedings of Congress, during the passage of the Law, and the Declaration itself, with the fac simile Engravings of the Signatures.

By JOHN SANDERSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we consider the personal qualities of the statesmen whose names are affixed to the Declaration of Independence, the perilous occasion which demanded the exertion of their wisdom and deliberation, and the influence of their councils on the interests of mankind, we must acknowledge that very rarely a more imposing spectacle has been offered to the world, and we shall seek in vain in the annals of nations, for an event more worthy of commemoration, and of being cherished forever in the hearts of a grateful and generous people. The love of independence is interwoven with the frame and constitution of the human mind. It is almost the first sentiment that animates the infant's features in the cradle; and amongst all the actions and enterprizes of man, none has awaked into activity a greater exertion of the virtuous energies of his nature, none has excited a greater warmth of veneration, and has more imperious claims upon our gratitude, than resistance to tyranny and political aggression.

In all republican states the first tribute of genius has been paid to the patriot or the hero who has promoted the cause of liberty and maintained the independence and dignity of man. The animated canvas and breathing marble have rescued his features from the grasp of death, and the pen of the historian has inscribed the achievements to the imperishable records of fame. It would indeed be no favorable prognostic of the perpetuity of our republican institutions to discover an insensibility to the obligations we owe the memory of the illustrious patrons of American freedom. They have raised us, by their magnanimity, from the arbitrary dominion of a foreign power, to the distinguished elevation of a sovereign and independent people; they have asserted and maintained the imprescriptible rights of humanity by the "mutual pledge of their pledge of their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honors;" and, as long as virtue holds her empire in the hearts of their successors, the example of these generous benefactors will not be lost to the world; their names will not pass away nor be forgotten, or their glorious deeds be confounded in the common and casual transaction of life.—Ingratitude is a vice that in nations, as well as individuals, indicates the last degree of degeneracy and corruption; it is a vice that implies the absence of every virtue; it was in the age of Caligula that the name of the Scipios was proscribed, that the state of Brutus brought death on its possessor.

"The glory of our ancestors is the light of posterity," and the homage of the living cannot be offered to the merits of the illustrious dead with an effectual or sterile admiration. Great and splendid actions will seldom be achieved by men who have humble or ordinary objects in prospect. It is by contemplating the life and character of those who are marked out from the multitude by their eminent qualities, that we become emulous of their virtues and their renown. The trophies of Miltiades interrupted the sleeps of Themistocles; and Theseus, hearing the exploits of Hercules, was fired with his spirit, and became the successful rival of his fame. The rude savage of the desert listens with rapture to the deeds of his ancestors, and hangs around his hut the emblems of his father's valour.

More need not be said to enforce the utility of the publication we have undertaken, and which we now submit to the patronage of our fellow-citizens, with a hope, that from the liberality of their encouragement, we shall be able to present it to the public worthy of their approbation. We must depend for the illustration of many of the characters of our biography, upon the generosity of their surviving relatives and friends, to furnish us with whatever interesting materials may be in their possession; for which, with our grateful acknowledgments, we promise a copy of the entire work as a compensation.

CONDITIONS.

I. The work will be published in numbers or half volumes of 200 pages, octavo, and contained in ten numbers. To the first will be prefixed an appropriate frontis-piece—and the work will be commenced with the declaration of independence, with engraved fac similes of the signatures, and a compendious detail of the proceedings of congress, during the passage of the law. Each of the lives, unless when it is impracticable, will be preceded by a likeness of the person, engraved by the best artists in the United States.

II. It will be printed on fine paper, made expressly for the purpose, and delivered to subscribers at two dollars and fifty cents per number, payable on delivery.

PUNNING.

A Mr. Wise, a watchmaker, in Pennsylvania, lately had his shop broken open in the night, and no less than 300 watches stolen therefrom. A Washington punster remarking on the event, says, these watches could not have been well regulated, seeing they all went so fast. This is but a sorry pun; as Mr. W. might have taken credit for their exact regulation, seeing they all went together. It would, perhaps, have been better punning, to have hinted, that Mr. WISE was not very wise in permitting so many watches to remain in his shop over night, without a watcher.

THE IMPORTANCE OF CORRECT PUNCTUATION.

A curious and very ingenious expedient was lately resorted to, at a trial at Dublin, to save a prisoner charged with robbery. The principal thing that appeared in evidence against him was a confession alleged to have been made by him at the police office, and taken down in writing by a police officer. The document purporting to contain this self-criminating acknowledgment was produced by the officer, and the following passage was read from it—

"Magnon said he never robbed but twice said it was Crawford."

This, it will be observed, had no mark of the writer's having any notice of punctuation, but the meaning he attached to it will be evident from the following mode of printing it:

"Magnan said he never robbed but twice—Said it was Crawford"

Mr. O'Gorman, the counsel for the prisoner, begged to look at the paper. He perused it, and rather astonished the peace officer, by asserting, that, so far from its proving the man's guilt, it clearly establishes his innocence. "This said the learned gentleman) is the fair & obvious reading of the sentence:

"Magnan said he never robbed—
"But twice said it was Crawford."

The man was of course acquitted.

SIR ROBERT WALPOLE.

Mr. W. Levison, my lord Gower's brother, told me that he happened to be in the house of lords, and standing next sir Robert Walpole, when there was a warm debate concerning some ministerial measures. In the midst of the debate says sir Robert to him—"You see with what zeal and vehemence these gentlemen oppose, and yet I know the price of every man in this house except three, and your brother is one of them." Sir Robert was frequently very unguarded in his expressions; for nothing certainly could have been thrown out more injurious to the honor of the house of lords. Besides this was an open confession of his manner of governing, and to what a great height he had carried corruption.

ALEXANDRIA:
FRIDAY MORNING, November 26.

LOSS OF THE SCHR. HANDY.

The schr. Two Brothers, captain Updike, arrived at Norfolk, on the 21st inst. from Gloucester, having on board James Kelly, captain; Eppes Greenough, mate; Zephaniah Martin, a passenger, taken from the wreck of the schr. Handy, of Washington City.—Captain Kelly gives the following melancholy account of the loss of his vessel, which we copy from the Norfolk Herald:—

"The schr. Handy, under his command, sailed from Alexandria 13th inst. with a cargo of stone for the fortifications at the Rip Raps, and six persons besides himself, two of whom were passengers. On Thursday night last, about half past 11 o'clock, three miles S. S. E. from New Point Comfort Light House, came to anchor in six fathoms water, the weather at the time calm and clear; at midnight a sudden squall came up from W. which induced captain K. to pay out about 60 fathoms of cable; at half past 3 yesterday morning, the wind hauled to N. N. W. and and blew so fresh that capt. K thought it prudent to prepare his storm sails; the vessel, which till now had appeared staunch and in good order, was found to be leaking so rapidly, that all hands turned to throwing over her deck load—but finding on sounding her pumps that she had 5 feet water in her hold, at half past 4, cut her cable and stood in for shoal water, and at 5 o'clock, on the tail of York spit, in 3 fathoms water, she went down. From the time of cutting her cable until this period the crew and passengers were busily employed at the pumps, & in getting the boat ready; but unfortunately the going down of the vessel was so sudden, that the boat was capsized and swept from the deck, and one passenger, two of the crew and the cabin boy, who were all of them on the lee side of the vessel were swept off by the sea and drowned. [Captain Kelly did not learn the name of this passenger, but says that he was a slim thin visaged man, about 18 or 20 years of age—he had understood that he was from Boston bound to Georgia, and that his baggage had already gone in a brig from Boston to Charleston.]"

Captain Kelly, his mate and the other passenger, caught hold of the weather rigging and with difficulty reached the masts' heads, where they remained nine hours (until two o'clock in the afternoon) when they were taken off by the Two Brothers as abovementioned. Captain K. states, that in about two hours after his vessel went down, her decks began to go to pieces, which loosened the masts, and he momently expected that himself and two fellow survivors would soon share the fate of their friends who had already perished. And what particularly added to the poignancy of Captain K's feelings was that four small vessels passed very near him, but disregarded his signals of distress, although they could have come within hail without the least difficulty.

Captain Kelly, in behalf of himself and survivors, feels indebted to an experienced ship-master of Norfolk, (Capt. P. E. Tabb) who was a passenger on board the Two Brothers, for the salvation (under a merciful Providence) of their lives—and in this manner, and with this expression of their gratitude to him, and also to Capt. Updike, the other passenger and crew of the said vessel, they tender all they can—their humble and sincere thanks.

MR. CALHOUN.

The report of the dangerous illness of the Secretary of War is confirmed by a letter received by the editors of the National Intelligencer, from a highly respectable gentleman now with him, dated at Gen. Bethel's, in Rockingham county, N. C. near the Virginia line, on the 17th November; of which the following is an extract:

"Mr. Calhoun has been lying here dangerously ill of a bilious fever, which has sunk down to a typhus type. His disease, which has raged with extraordinary violence, has been borne without a murmur and is now thought by his physicians (Dr. Smith of Hillsborough, and Dr. Foulke) to be happily subsiding. He is, however, so very low, as to be by no means out of danger. His family are fortunately with him."

The writer of the above, who is a personal friend of Mr. Calhoun, arrived at Gen. Bethel's on the day preceding the date of his letter.

WEST INDIES.

Upon every storm, and every deficient crop, the Islands of the West Indies are open and then shut again. This is a singular kind of policy. New arrangements we cannot call these things. But we go to the West Indies, as the bakers' carts go to the houses. "Any bread to day? May we call to-morrow?" What name is given to this kind of huckstering? What baker would be content long in this way without any steady customers? Why cannot the West India Islands be numbered, and so the trade set off to them by the week, that each may have its turn to be served? We can then be in the neighborhood, watching our opportunity.

A CAUTION.

A young lady in France, was in the habit of cleaning her ears with pins—a trifling humor was the result, which terminated lately in a cancer. The brass and quicksilver used in the preparation of pins; may easily account for this circumstance, and which render them so very pernicious when used as tooth-picks.

GREAT HUNTING.

A party of ten young gentlemen of Boscawen, N. H. on the first inst. made a hunting party in the neighboring woods, and returned at twilight with sixteen hundred and sixteen grey and red squirrels, heath-cocks, hawks, owls, ducks, patridges, crows, rabbits, muskrats, minks, hedge-hogs, foxes, and otters. "This," adds the official account, "vastly exceeds all former hunting in Boscawen, and we believe it would place even the sharp-shooters of the west in a quandary."

Baltimore, Nov. 23.

Yesterday we mentioned the case of John F. Ferguson, who was arraigned before the circuit court, now sitting in this city, on an indictment for certain acts of piracy, committed after he had the command of the La Irresistable, which he cut out of the harbor of Margaritta. The Jury returned a verdict of GUILTY. The prosecution was conducted by the District Attorney—counsel for the prisoner, R. JOHNSON, and E. L. FINLEY, Esqrs.

Camden, N. J. Nov. 19.

FRIEND RELF,—There is no knowing to what acts of madness and despair the concern and cares of this world may drive poor frail human nature. I am told, that two young men of your city mutually agreed to take each other's lives! Last Sabbath afternoon was the appointed time! and the neighborhood of this town the fatal spot!—What could induce them to be accompanied by Friends cannot be imagined—unless, it was in order, after the destruction was finished, to be sure that their bodies should be decently interred, instead of being left a prey for the crows! But so it was! They met with the engines of death! They fired at each other FIVE times!!!!! and then agreed it was better to live a little longer!

FATAL ACCIDENT.

On Wednesday morning Michael Frytag, Esqr. and James Vanholt, of Moyamensing township, Philadelphia county, and two other persons, went into the vicinity of Newton Creek, Gloucester county, N. J. in pursuit of game. Whilst there, two other persons joined them. Having obtained permission of the owner of the ground, they fixed upon the bounds which each of the gunners was not to pass, and seperated. About one o'clock, while Mr. Freytag was in the act of raising his gun to shoot at a patridge, Mr. Vanholt came before him, the gun went off, and its contents were lodged in his neck and the side of his head. Dr. Hindre of Haddonfield was sent for, who bled him, and rendered him every possible assistance, but in vain. He died in about six hours after receiving the wound. He has left a wife and a daughter to deplore his untimely fate.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.

At a late hour on Friday evening last, a son of Dr. Rose, aged about 13 years, of the town of Jersey, Steuben County, returned from hunting, and while in the act of putting up his rifle, it unfortunately went off, and the ball passed through the chamber floor, and into a bed in which a son of Mr. Yanger, of about the same age lay. The ball entered the back of the boy and is supposed to have lodged near his heart. We learn that the Coroner called a Jury who brought in a verdict of "accidental death."

SHOCKING DEPRAVITY.

At the term of the Superior Court of Vermont, in Manchester, last week, two brothers of the name of Bowen, formerly of that place, were convicted of the murder of a brother-in law. They are sentenced to be hung on the 25th day of January next.—The murder was committed about 7 years ago, and one of the murderers was arrested in the western part of this state, where he had some time resided. One of them exhibited the most hardened unconcern. The father, a very aged man, has been committed to goal on his own confession, for being engaged in the same murder. [Albany Argus.

"We have news of Barbadoes being completely demolished, and part of the Island sunk by hurricane and earthquake since the 21st."

Edwardsville, Oct. 23.

It is reported by a gentleman from St. Louis, that, on the night of the 17th inst. a mob collected in that town, and after driving from their posts the guards who had been stationed around the jail, attacked the jail with crow picks, &c. and almost demolished it—when they proceeded to disencumber the prisoners of their fetters, which having accomplished, and set the prisoners to the number of eight or ten, at liberty, they dispersed in the most perfect order. What is more remarkable than any thing else is, that of the mob, consisting of 2 or 300 persons, no one has yet been recognized as having been engaged in the affair. It is understood that only four or five of the prisoners were confined for capital offences.

A camp meeting of the Methodist Church in Cape Giradeau County, M. T. was attempted to be held in September last; but before the meeting was completely organized, a mob of slave holders appeared among them, who drove the preachers from their stands and dispersed the meeting.

HARDY'S SQUADRON.

The following paragraph from the London Times of the 21st September, explains distinctly the destination and motive of Hardy's expedition:—

"Some apprehensions having prevailed with regard to the service to which Sir Thomas Hardy's squadron is destined, we have reason to think ourselves authorized in stating, that this gallant officer (who, by the way, is not an admiral, but a captain bearing a broad pendant) carries out no orders differing in any respect from those which Captain Bowles, his predecessor, has acted on for these four or five years past with so much advantage to British commerce. If Sir Thomas Hardy's force be greater than that under Captain Bowles, it may, perhaps, be only because the forces of the contending parties have accumulated; and it is a necessary principle in our maritime policy to give our distant trade the countenance of a squadron, proportioned in some degree, to those of the belligerent parties. On that ground we are apt to think that Commodore Bowles was, in the first instance, relatively stronger than Sir Thomas Hardy is now. The surmise of a cotemporary journal, therefore, we believe to be erroneous, namely, that "Lord Cochrane's measure would bring him within the rule of Sir T. Hardy's instructions;" for if the blockade of the Peruvian coast be a blockade de facto, we never, of course, can contend against or impugn it, without flying in the face of our own doctrines; but if it be a mere paper blockade, the questions arising out of it must be left to the decision of the British government at home, as it would render the peace of nations much too precarious, if individual officers had the power of determining what did, or did not amount to infractions of public law, and were authorized to take the remedy into their own hands."

DRURY-LANE THEATRE.

Yesterday evening this Theatre ope ed for the season under the new ma agement, and under circumstances the most auspicious nature—such indee as serve to prove that a generous an enlightened public, will always be rea to reward a deserving favorite. T distinguished talents of Mr. Elliste are too well known to require an remarks from us on this occasion; h independent of the high reputation has always maintained with the inhab tants of this metropolis as an elega and chaste actor, they must have bor in mind the great and hazardous u dertaking in which he has just embar ed; they must have sympathised in th anxieties which naturally attend a pe son placed in such a situated, laborio as it were, to revive an establishme that had suffered in character as w as in property; and they must hav felt it as a duty incumbent on them support the man who has spirit enou to enter upon this arduous task. A these considerations, together with impression the public have long had Mr. Elliston's liberality, had the effe of bringing to his Theatre, last night an audience as numerous and elega as any that ever was witnessed in th metropolis. The passages leading t the house were crowded long before the doors were open; and in a short time after they were opened, every place was filled. Many hundreds of people went away, being unable to gain admittance into the pit or galleries; and long before the rising of the curtain, the boxes even at the top of the house, were so full, that numbers were obliged to stand outside the doors, in hopes of being able to take an occasional peep at the stage, or catching an occasional sound from it. All this must surely have been occasioned by the interest which was felt in Mr. Elliston's new management and proprictorship, for no part of the announced performances presented anything like novelty. A few minutes after seven o'clock the curtain was raised, and the vocal performers, accompanied by the band, sung 'God save the king.' Miss Kelly afterwards came forward to repeat the Address which had been prepared for the occasion; but the audience insisted on having 'Rule Britannia,' and would not allow her to proceed. Mr. Russell accordingly came upon the stage, told them their wishes should be complied with, and handed Miss Kelly off. The favorite national air was then played and sung, and rapturously applauded. Miss K. then came forward, and delivered an appropriate address.

After this, the play, which was the comedy of Wild Oats, commenced. All the old favorite performers, on their entrance, were loudly greeted; but when Mr. Elliston, who performed the part of Rover, (and who else could have attempted it?) made his appearance, the whole house rang with acclamations and clapping of hands, which were continued for two or three minutes.—it is hardly necessary to say, that he went through every part of this character, with his accustomed animation, spirit and chasteness. The part of John Dory was performed by a Mr. Thompson, from the Dublin theatre, this being his first appearance on a London stage. He is an energetic and impressive actor; but he spoke with a strong Irish accent, which certainly does not belong to the character. When the play was concluded, Mr. Penley came forward with cing the performa evening; but he wa cries of "Elliston, Mr. Elliston t stage amidst loud and waving of hats and addressed the the following effect Ladies and Gent announcement of evening, may not cient on this occas bedience to your c my most grateful ac this additional mark not, however, be expression of your a I have done, but res and wait until you shall make to dese come here with the these doors shall at merit and genius, a shall be devoted to th of our country.—I w you that, besides th who can be procured rites shall be retained and huzzas.) came forward with a view of announcing the performance of the ensuing evening; but he was interupted by loud cries of "Elliston, Elliston."

Mr. Elliston then came upon the stage amidst loud clapping of hands, and waving of hats and handkerchiefs, and addressed the audience nearly to the following effect:

Ladies and Gentlemen—As the bare announcement of a play for another evening, may not be considered sufficient on this occasion, I appear, in obedience to your call and return you my most grateful acknowledgements for this additional mark of your favor. Do not, however, be too sanguine in the expression of your approbation for what I have done, but reserve your applauses and wait until you see the endeavors I shall make to deserve them. I have come here with the determination that these doors shall at all times be open to merit and genius, and that this theatre shall be devoted to the legitimate drama of our country.—I wish also to inform you that, besides the best performers who can be procured, all your old favorites shall be retained. (Loud clapping and huzzas.) He then concluded with announcing the performance of the ensuing evening; and the repetition of the play of Wild Oats, on Wednesday evening.

The afterpiece was Lock and Key.

Madrid, Sept. 21.

The sentences relative to the conspiracy of the Ex-General Porlier, approved by his Majesty on the 12th ult. included 242 individuals. Brigadier de Ramon Romay, Col. M. Peon, Major Petre Miquelez, Captains Lopez, and Arguez, Lieut. Urnedia, and the Naval officers Uharnes, all sentenced par contumace, are sentenced to be shot in the back, and their property confiscated; they may however, be heard in their defence, if they present themselves.—Captains Castaneda and Peon are sentenced to the same punishment, with the exception that they may not be heard in their defence. The merchant Andres Roxo, is also sentenced to the same fate.

The other punishments are imprisonments from ten to two years. This class includes 20 Officers of all ranks. Some are sentenced to be confined in fortresses from four to six months, and 40 have been deemed sufficiently punished by the detention they have already suffered. The number acquitted amounts to 148, nearly all Officers, amongst whom are three Colonels, and three Lieut. Colonels.

In consideration of the Auditor of War, Don Manuel Saturio Garcia, and his sufferings during a long imprisonment, he is sentenced to be deprived of his office and to be confined at Ceuta for the term of five years, under the surveillance of the Governor, from whence he cannot remove without the special leave of his majesty. ——

London, Oct. 5.

MARLBOROUGH STREET.

A distressing case occurred yesterday in the prosecution of a son, 17 years old, by the father, a poor but honest man, whose story of the depraved son, told under much affliction shocked every one present. The charge was for stealing the poor man's shirt, when he had scarcely another, which was found on the back of one of the son's guilty associates. He gave in a list of apparel which the prisoner had stolen at different times; he had often snatched him from the company of thieves, and taken him home, but the last time his conduct was so horrid, that he would endeavor to reclaim him no more. His last act was picking pockets at church, when he was sent to hear Divine Service, and on his return home, his father detected him in the act of teaching his two brothers to pick pockets, by putting a handkerchief in his pocket and instructing them in the manner of getting it out easily.—The prisoner was remanded.

Round Hill for Sale.

BY virtue of a deed of trust from Daniel M'Pherson and wife to me, under date of the 30th of May, 1816, and for the purposes therein prescribed, I shall sell at public auction, on the premises, on FRIDAY, the 10th of December next, a tract of land, in the county of Fairfax, known by the name of lying on the stage or Colchester road, distant about 6 miles from Alexandria, and containing 148½ acres, more or less;—reserving, however, to George Triplett his right to one moiety of the dwelling house and yard. This land has been very considerably improved by judicious cultivation, and there are now growing crops of small grain upon it.

Also, one other tract, being an equal undivided moiety of a tract of land in the said county, contiguous to the foregoing, and supposed to contain 25 acres 2 poles.

The terms of sale will be made known at the time and place of sale.

came forward with a view of announcing the performance of the ensuing evening; but he was interupted by loud cries of "Elliston, Elliston."

Mr. Elliston then came upon the stage amidst loud clapping of hands, and waving of hats and handkerchiefs, and addressed the audience nearly to the following effect:

Ladies and Gentlemen—As the bare announcement of a play for another evening, may not be considered sufficient on this occasion, I appear, in obedience to your call and return you my most grateful acknowledgements for this additional mark of your favor. Do not, however, be too sanguine in the expression of your approbation for what I have done, but reserve your applauses and wait until you see the endeavors I shall make to deserve them. I have come here with the determination that these doors shall at all times be open to merit and genius, and that this theatre shall be devoted to the legitimate drama of our country.—I wish also to inform you that, besides the best performers who can be procured, all your old favorites shall be retained. (Loud clapping and huzzas.) He then concluded with announcing the performance of the ensuing evening; and the repetition of the play of Wild Oats, on Wednesday evening.

The afterpiece was Lock and Key.

Madrid, Sept. 21.

The sentences relative to the conspiracy of the Ex-General Porlier, approved by his Majesty on the 12th ult. included 242 individuals. Brigadier de Ramon Romay, Col. M. Peon, Major Petre Miqueliz, Captains Lopez, and Arguez, Lieut. Urnedia, and the Naval officers Uharnes, all sentenced par contumace, are sentenced to be shot in the back, and their property confiscated; they may however, be heard in their defence, if they present themselves.—Captains Castaneda and Peon are sentenced to the same punishment, with the exception that they may not be heard in their defence. The merchant Andres Roxo, is also sentenced to the same fate.

The other punishments are imprisonments from ten to two years. This class includes 20 Officers of all ranks. Some are sentenced to be confined in fortresses from four to six months, and 40 have been deemed sufficiently punished by the detention they have already suffered. The number acquitted amounts to 148, nearly all Officers, amongst whom are three Colonels, and three Lieut. Colonels.

In consideration of the Auditor of War, Don Manuel Saturio Gartia, and his sufferings during a long imprisonment, he is sentenced to be deprived of his office and to be confined at Ceuta for the term of five years, under the surveillance of the Governor, from whence he cannot remove without the special leave of his majesty. ——

London, Oct. 5.

MARLBOROUGH STREET.

A distressing case occurred yesterday in the prosecution of a son, 17 years old, by the father, a poor but honest man, whose story of the depraved son, told under much affliction shocked every one present. The charge was for stealing the poor man's shirt, when he had scarcely another, which was found on the back of one of the son's guilty associates. He gave in a list of apparrel which the prisoner had stolen at different times; he had often snatched him from the company of thieves, and taken him home, but the last time his conduct was so horrid, that he would endeavor to reclaim him no more. His last act was picking pockets at church, when he was sent to hear Divine Service, and on his return home, his father detected him in the act of teaching his two brothers to pick pockets, by putting a handkerchief in his pocket and instructing them in the manner of getting it out easily.—The prisoner was remanded.

Round Hill for Sale.

BY virtue of a deed of trust from Daniel M'Pherson and wife to me, under date of the 30th of May, 1816, and for the purposes therein prescribed, I shall sell at public auction, on the premises, on FRIDAY, the 10th of December next, a tract of land, in the county of Fairfax, known by the name of lying on the stage or Colchester road, distant about 6 miles from Alexandria, and containing 148½ acres, more or less;—reserving, however, to George Triplett his right to one moiety of the dwelling house and yard. This land has been very considerably improved by judicious cultivation, and there are now growing crops of small grain upon it.

Also, one other tract, being an equal undivided moiety of a tract of land in the said county, contiguous to the foregoing, and supposed to contain 25 acres 2 poles.

The terms of sale will be made known at the time and place of sale.

Extracts from a Law

Of the Corporation to provide for the speedy extinguishment of Fire, &c.

Sec 1. That every proprietor of any dwelling house, or store house within the limits of the corporation, shall, at his or her own expence, provide as many fire buckets, made of good and suitable leather, and containing at least two and a half gallons, as shall be equal in number to the stories in such house. Provided, That no proprietor shall, in any case be compelled to provide more than three buckets for one house. Every proprietor who shall neglect to procure the proper number of buckets in the manner herein directed, shall forfeit and pay one dollar per month for each bucket he shall so neglect to procure. The proprietors of all dwelling houses and store houses which shall hereafter be erected within the corporation, shall furnish the same with buckets in the manner before prescribed, within two months after such houses shall be occupied; or failing to do so, shall be subject to the penalties before mentioned.

2. Where the proprietor of any dwelling house or store house residing out of the limits of the corporation, shall neglect to comply with the requisitions of this act, the occupier of such house shall within two months after coming to the possession thereof, procure the necessary buckets; and failing to provide the same, shall be subject to the like penalties as are in such case imposed on the proprietor.

5. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of police, once in six months at least, to visit the houses within the limits of the corporation to examine and take an account of the buckets belonging to such houses, and to report to the mayor the names of all persons who shall neglect to provide and keep the same, according to the requisitions of this act.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, on Thursday, the 11th inst. a negro man, named DICK, who sometimes calls himself Dick Douglas. He is a small man about 5 feet 6 inches high, and is not a very black man. I purchased him from the estate of Edgar McCarty, esq. Cedar Grove, Fairfax county, Va. and it is likely that he may be lurking about that neighborhood or Colchester, as he has a wife at capt. Berry's of the latter place; or he may have gone to Loudoun county, as he has lived there in the neighborhood of Wm. McCarty and John McCarty, near Leesburg. He had on and took with him an old grey cloth coat and a brown do pantaloons of drab colored domestic cloth. He is much addicted to liquor, and is a coarse shoemaker. I will give 20 dollars if taken in the district of Columbia. Thirty dollars if taken in Fairfax county, and the above reward if apprehended in any other place, and secured so that I get him again; and reasonable charges if brought home. WM. B. STUART.

RAN away from the subscriber living in King George's county Va. on Monday the 22nd March, a yellow man named about 22 years of age, his fore teeth wide apart, and cannot speak very quick—had on Virginia cloth clothes and carried off a shaggy great coat, he has a father named Peter Hall, who lives with the widow Morgan, at Oak Hill, Fauquier Co. and his grandfather, old Frederick Hall, is supposed to be living at Mr. Terrett's near Alexandria, and it is likely he may be lurking about there.—I will give the above reward for apprehending and securing said fellow so that I get him again, and reasonable charges if brought home. 100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, living near Aldie, Loudoun county, Virginia, on the night of the 11th inst. a negro man, who calls his name NED BURGES. He is a shrewd, intelligent negro, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high; 30 years of age, well made, active and polite. Had on when he went away, a sky colored coat, and corded pantaloons. His right eye sore, apparently occasioned by a blow, the blood having settled around it. His ears have been pierced, and had green silk in them when he went away. It is expected he is now lurking about Fairfax court-house and Aldie. The above Ned Burges ran away on the night of the 25th of last Aug and was caught on the 11th inst. on the night of which he effected his elopement by drawing the staple to which he was fastened by the handle of a pan, while there was no person in the kitchen but himself. He was caught on the 11th inst. a few miles below Aldie, but I think it improbable that he has gone near the same place again. I will give 100 dollars if he is taken out of the county, and fifty if taken in the county, and secured so that I get him again, and all reasonable charges if brought home. GEO. GULICK.
P. S. It is supposed that the said negro has obtained papers of freedom, or a free pass, or something of the kind. G. G.

100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, a smooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bearskin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY on the 25th of April last, a man called NED, formerly the property of Mr. Fitzhugh, of Fairfax, and by him sold to Hepburn & Dundas. He had on when he went away an old country blue and white cloth coat, and kersey trowsers—his right hand in a sling, in consequence of the kick of a horse. Ned is a stupid looking fellow, and hesitates very much when he speaks. I will give fifty dollars if apprehended in the District, or the above reward for apprehending him out of the District, so that I get him again.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling,

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them.
